(2) Reason for revision

Sales in Semiconductors, the core of our High-Purity Chemical Business, are trending steadily, primarily for semiconductors for AI, and we are also expecting sales revenue to exceed our initial plan due to the pass-through of higher raw material costs. Furthermore, Electronic Materials shipments of potassium fluoride are also trending favorably due to increased demand from data centers. Given these circumstances, we expect sales revenue, operating profit, ordinary profit, and profit attributable to owners of parent to exceed our previously announced forecasts.
